

Extra Helpings wants to hear from you!

As we noted in our inaugural edition, Extra Helpings will feature a variety of content including a list of staff birthdays, organizational news, staff achievements and interesting articles that pertain to our mission.

You will receive a new edition within the first week of each month.

Beginning in August, you will notice that Extra Helpings' content will expand to include profile pieces of management and other personnel. The profiles will have a special name that relates to the Hearty Helpings brand!

We also want to inspire your participation in suggesting Extra Helpings' news.

It's important to us that your newsletter features relatable content, and that we provide timely news about your co-workers – such as their recent engagement or marriage, or even the birth of a child. If you know of any such news, please let your supervisor know so that it can be included in an upcoming edition!

If there are any topics you'd like covered within Extra Helpings, we also encourage you to talk to your supervisor so that your suggestions can be considered.

It is our sincere hope that Extra Helpings provides you and your coworkers with increased camaraderie.

Thank you for your help with Extra Helpings! ❤️
